Chamberlain Says Rights of British Con-

By WALLACE CARROLL

British United Press. Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin
LONDON, Nov. 16.—Public indignation against Nazi persecution of Jews mounted today and reports circulated that the British cabinet might soon express its "abhorrence" of the German policy aimed at elimination of Jews.

CONSTITUENCY
REDISTRIBUTING
IS UP IN HOUSE

Necessity For Early Treatment Imposed On Government

Necessity for an early treatment of the question of redistribution of provincial constituencies may be imposed on the government at the present special session. It was reported in well informed circles on Wednesday.

It was reported that before the house prorogues, the government may be urged to take some action toward bringing about redistribution at the present session.

If no action is taken at this meeting of the house, it is certain that there will be at the next regular gathering toward the end of January or early in February.

Such action as would be taken at this session would be to name a special committee to investigate the whole question and report at the regular session.

So far no representations have been made, and inquiry revealed that the government has taken no action in this respect.

The last redistribution was carried out prior to the provincial general election and increased the strength of the legislature from 40 to 45 members. The redistribution bill was the work of a special committee representative of all parties in the house and sat under the regular session.

Roosevelt Projects Defence System To Take In Dominion

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—A system of continental defence, taking in Canada as well as the United States and South American republics, was projected today by President Roosevelt.

The president's need for solidarity among the nations of the western hemisphere more definite than at any time since the Latin American republics were struggling for their independence more than a century ago, the president announced a plan of co-operation backed by a powerful U.S. air force.

The president told his press conference yesterday he would ask congress to increase the U.S. air force sufficiently to cope with any foreign aggression against either of the Americas.

maximum of $100 for the session.
It is the same as provided in the last special session, which netted the members $80.

and other insects are ravaging crops
throughout the state.

Final Returns—Athabasca

Final returns of the Athabasca provincial constituency election, held on Monday, Nov. 7, are to hand, the last of the 44 polls in the constituency having been heard from.

The final standing of the candidates is as follows:
C. J. R. Whiteley, Liberal . . . 1472
Total vote . . . 3209

Majority for Mr. Tade . . . 265
In the 1935 provincial general election the total vote cast in the Athabasca constituency was 3029.

There was a three-cornered fight, the voting being as follows:
C. H. Tade, Social Credit . . . 1764
P. R. Falconer, Liberal . . . 1824
A. McLeod, Conservative . . . 315

Overall majority for Mr. Tade was 499.
The last poll to be heard from was at La Biche River,
an isolated spot.

There were seven votes cast at this poll, of which two were for Tade and five for Whiteley.

Difficult roads made the return from La Biche River hard to get through.

As a result of the delay in getting the box in from La Biche and the delay in returning to other boxes to Boyle, the headquarters of Returning Officer G. W. Lee, his official return will not be made on Thursday as expected, but will be delayed one week, until Nov. 23. Then will elapse a 10-day interval to allow for protests, after which Mr. Tade's election will be gazetted and he will be free to take his seat in the house at the following session of the legislature.

The figures for the election in the Athabasca constituency practically the same as in the 1935 general election. The total vote was greater and the opposition vote was larger, the increase in the total vote accounting for this.

Hon. N. E. Tanner Outlines
Main Business of Special Session—Rules Are Suspended.

Gaining unanimous consent of the house to suspend rules at the opening sitting of the special session on Tuesday, Hon. N. E. Tanner, minister of lands and mines, introduced the new Alberta oil and gas conservation bill, which gives authority to the administering board to enforce its orders, which shall not be open to attack or review in court.

This bill is the main business program for which the session was called—the chief feature of the seventh session of the eighth elected legislature of Alberta.

The bill is a result of action taken in the courts by Messrs. Oil, Ltd.
and Oil Products Ltd. These companies challenged the legality of Gas and Oil Conservation Board orders drafted under legislation enacted at the regular 1936 legislative session.

Reduction and preservation of petroleum in Canada, Valley field, formed the basis of Board orders.

PROVINCE CUTS
CITY AID GRANT

Provincial government has informed Edmonton that the city must accept a new unemployment relief plan covering unemployment relief and which, it is estimated, will mean a reduction of $50,000 in the government's relief contribution to the city between now and the end of the year.

The Alberta officials made it perfectly clear to the city that there was no alternative but to ask to sign the new agreement, which will mean the city would pay 40 per cent and the senior government 60 per cent. The city would lose clothing and shelter for relief recipients, the mayor said.

AMENDMENT TO

BROUGHT DOWN

Change Sponsored By
Maynard Would Govern
Mortgage Actions

Aiming to give increased protection to Alberta debtors in their relationship with mortgage companies, Hon. Lucien Maynard, minister of municipal affairs, is sponsoring an amendment to the Debt Adjustment Act which provides that under certain conditions no covenant or agreement, whether made before the act comes into force, is to have any effect unless it has been approved by the Debt Adjustment Board.

It is anticipated that this amendment will give mortgage companies acting under the act to sign renewal agreements on a 10 per cent basis for periods ranging from 10 to 18 months.

Germany's Treatment of Jews Almost Beyond Belief Says Roosevelt

ANTI-SEMITIC ACTION SCORED BY PRESIDENT

Says America and Canada would unite to combat aggressor

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—President Roosevelt denounced Nazi Germany's treatment of Jews Tuesday as almost beyond belief and pictured a vast, consistent defense system in which all the Americas and Canada would present a united front against aggression from abroad.

The words he spoke on military defenses at a press conference were closely linked, in his listeners' minds, to his statements about Germany. Highlighting the possible connection was speculation here and abroad that the totalitarian Reich may seek to extend its influence to Latin America.

PLAN AIR INCREASE
The president, projector of the "good neighbor" policy, declared that as one means of insuring protection for the 20 American republics and Canada he and his advisers are discussing an increased air force.

He indicated clearly he favored making it strong enough at least to help defend against western hemisphere as well as United States against any aggression from the Axis powers.
Mr. Roosevelt disclosed he himself was back of yesterday's order to Ambassador Hugh B. Wilson home. Mr. Roosevelt said he would not discuss the ambassador's position would stay here. This gave rise to speculation the envoy might remain in the United States indefinitely.

Premier Refers To Roosevelt Speech

OTTAWA, Nov. 16.—President Roosevelt's declaration Tuesday that the United States air program was designed to protect not only its own country but the 20 American republics and Canada, renewed "the note of co-operation" the president struck at Kingston last summer, Prime Minister Mackenzie King said last night at a cabinet meeting.

On the occasion of his receiving an honorary degree at Queen's university, Kingston, last Aug. 18, Mr. Roosevelt declared that should Canada be threatened by an aggressor nation United States would stand fully by it.
The president's statement, Mr. Mackenzie King said, was a further indication of the common concern and interest the two countries have for their mutual welfare.

Asked if there was any common policy at between Canada and the United States on the question of mutual defence, the prime minister said "the whole question of our policy on defence will have to be reviewed when we meet parliament."

Already the defence committee of the cabinet have taken under consideration the defence estimates for the next session of parliament. There have been rumors they will reach $500,000. For the last two years they have been around $25,000,000.

Cabinet Seeks Means Aiding German Jews

LONDON, Nov. 16.—The cabinet today was expected to seek means of aiding German Jews who avoided Nazi reaction in a plan providing for mass migration.

The proposal to move the German Jews to north and south America was understood to be ready for discussion by the cabinet at its regular Wednesday meeting.
Consultations are under way among Great Britain, United States, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Denmark and Switzerland on the problem growing out of the recent wave of anti-Semitic measures in Germany. An international conference may be called, as suggested by Premier Hendrikus Colijn of the Netherlands yesterday.

Tweedsmuir Says He Has Written Too Many Books

OTTAWA, Nov. 16.—Lord Tweedsmuir whimsically confessed to the Canadian Association for Adult Education that he has written "far, far too many books."
"I have a terrible weight on my conscience in the shape of a number of books," the Governor General told the association.
"I have made printing machinery, I have been a printer, a publisher, I have owned a paper, I have been a writer, I have reviewed books. I think there is nothing about books I haven't done and I have written far, far too many."
"But what I have said that let me hasten to add that the written word is one of the greatest things in the world. It provides a stable faith in the shifting sands on which we stand today."

Quebec To Continue Enforce Padlock Law

QUEBEC, Nov. 16.—Premier Duplessis of Quebec here to open the royal winter fair, said in an interview Tuesday his government has no intention of rescinding or dropping enforcement of Quebec's "padlock law" directed against communist elements. "They pretend about my law, but they are not about to point to one whom of it," said Mr. Duplessis.

'Tis Summer Time

They're having summer, or late spring, right now in Australia and here is one of the sights that make Australians glad to be alive. The bulletins are bulletins from the "No. 10, No. 11, No. 12" show (remember "Yes for Two"). Visitors to Bondi Beach, near Sydney, were given a free treat when the ballet returned on the beach.

WOUNDED WHILE DUCK HUNTING VETERAN DIES

CALGARY, Nov. 16.—Injured while duck hunting, Charles Riches, 60, Great War veteran known as the man who "coughed a bullet out of his nose" died in hospital here Tuesday.
He was injured November 5 near Dalmated, 30 miles southeast of here when struck by a charge of buckshot fired at close range.
Several years ago Riches coughed a bullet out of his nose after he had carried the pellet in his body for twenty years. He was wounded during the war but the bullet was never extracted. One morning, while he was having breakfast, the bullet flew out of his nose.
Mr. Riches is survived by his wife, a daughter and three sons. Bert and Norman Riches of Lethbridge are sons. An inquest will be held today.

Jews Hiding

had begun gradually to disappear about their homes.
"Now there is fear the funeral on Thursday may stir even more violent firing among Nazis who consider Von Rath a martyr, and in terrorizing despite the Jews have adopted secret codes for communications while they keep as much as possible in seclusion," Von Rath's body is in the hands of the Chancellor Hitler is to save the funeral train.
Jewish newspapers are forbidden, so thousands do not know what is happening to their people through the country.

They fear of the misfortunes of friends only by roundabout ways. They do not use telephones, unless they have agreed with friends upon code phrases.
The Jewish community headquarters building here is guarded now by regular Berlin police, who replaced secret service (Gestapo) men yesterday.
The Jewish elders may carry on their conferences with others summoned by special officers, but they are forbidden to discuss the results.

EXEMPLIFIED STRAIN

One Jewish woman exemplified the strain under which nearly all the 600,000 German Jews have lived since the Thursday burning of synagogues and smashing of shop windows led to a $400,000,000 punitive bill against Jewish wealth and decrees to push Jews from social and economic life.
She said she could endure no longer. She had a passport which had expired and was without the "J" that now must be stamped on all passports held by Jews. With the passport and, she said, a bottle of poison she departed for the frontier—"If they police the passport has expired and I can't get out then I'll take the poison."

SOME RELEASED
Some Jews now are being released from arrest—thousands were jailed over the weekend. They have a visa to some foreign country and have other documents, a rail pass, steamship ticket or evidence. One has been purchased, a statement all their taxes are paid and a certificate from their ward police station that their record is clean.
Police also check that the emigrant has 60 per cent of wealth in gold.

GOERING ANGERED

Field Marshal Goering, administrator of the four-year plan, was angered by the destruction of millions of dollars in property, a trustworthy informant said.
This view differed with that of propaganda minister Goebbels who has said he approved "unusually" the anti-Semitic reaction of the Jews' enemies.
A statistician has estimated that all the clouds on earth rained into one would weigh 913,600,000 pounds.

LEWIS' PARTY REJECTS PLEA OF ROOSEVELT

C.I.O. Refuses Proposal to Work with A.F. of L. Faction

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 16.—The Committee for Industrial Organization set itself up last night as a permanent congress of industrial organizations after answering President Roosevelt's plea for labor peace with the declaration it would accept "no compromise with the American Federation of Labor in negotiation regarding industrial unionism."

Delegates to the union's first convention adopted two articles of a proposed constitution. The first gave the organization its new name and the second set forth its objects. The proposed constitution resembles in many respects that of the A.F. of L.—but gives the central organization more power in some respects and more dues per member.

BOOST ASSESSMENTS
A per capita tax assessment of five cents a month on the membership of national and international unions was proposed, compared with the present two cents per member assessment of similar units of the A.F. of L., which includes a special assessment of one cent.

Members of local industrial unions, with chapters resembling the "federal" chapters, issued by the A.F. of L., would be taxed 30 cents a month, compared with 25 cents by the Federation.

HAS FAST POWER
The Federation's executive committee is to suspend, national and international unions, if it did the eight big unions which

Delirium Tremens, Mild Insanity Can Be Cured By Insulin Science Discovers

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 16.—A new use of insulin in treatment of delirium tremens and similar mental disorders was reported Tuesday to the Southern Medical Association.

Dr. G. Wise Robinson Jr., of Kansas City, Mo., said the hormone, still ready in use in the shock treatment of almost hopeless mental cases, may be even more useful in treatment of milder forms of insanity.

Such patients, who suffer from mild hallucinations, inability to eat or sleep, and have suicidal impulses, can be brought back to normal within 24 hours with small doses of insulin, he said. The treatment has been used on hundreds of persons in a Kansas City hospital with no unfavorable results, he added.

Insulin seems to act as a stimulant for the entire body in removing toxic poisons which accumulate when a person eats or drinks too much or too little or is under excessive mental strain. These poisons, ordinarily eliminated through the liver, cause an expansion of the blood vessels which feed the brain and leakage into the brain tissue itself. The result, Dr. Robinson declared, is a general fogging up of the mind.

The C.I.O.'s executive board will have 45 members. The A.F. of L. has 40 members.
The convention staged a 14-minute demonstration after adopting without dissent the officers' reports which included the declaration with finality of "no compromise" with its basic principles in recent negotiations.

The eight-page "peace" committee report branded the A.F. of L. for the labor breach.

Saskatchewan Hall Association Not To Make Full Payment

REGINA, Nov. 16.—For the first time in 20 years, or since the present method of collection was set up, the Saskatchewan Municipal Hall Association will not make full payment on adjusted loans this year. A 25 per cent payment will be made and the balance of payment will depend entirely on future collections.

The total of adjusted loans for the year stands at $971,000, well above the average but far under the peak reached in 1935, around $2,500,000. The adjusted loan last year was around $130,000.

The directors had to dispose of $200,000 in bonds to be able to make the 75 per cent payment. The bonds were asked for a loan, but, again for the first time in 20 years, the loan was refused.

MACKENZIE KING SILENT ON PERTH CREDENTIALS

OTTAWA, Nov. 16.—Prime Minister Mackenzie King declined comment last night on a London report that when the Earl of Perth presented his credentials at Rome today as British ambassador to the court of the King of Italy and Emperor of Ethiopia, he will be automatically resigning on behalf of Canada, Italian conquest of the African domain.

"That is a large question and I would rather reserve any comment until another time," the Prime Minister said at a press conference following a cabinet meeting.
While the credentials of the Earl of Perth did not mention Canada specifically it was interpreted in the London report the ambassador would be representing all parts of the Empire not already represented by a minister in Rome.

SASKATCHEWAN ALFALFA WINS TORONTO FAIR

White Fox Exhibitors Take First Four Prizes

TORONTO, Nov. 16.—The farm crops in relation of man to farm crops was exemplified again at the Royal Winter fair Tuesday with announcement four farmers from White Fox, Sask., had received first, second, third and fourth prizes in alfalfa, criticism variety.

Six years ago settlers in that northern Saskatchewan district were all on relief. The climate was too rigorous and the soil too poor for ordinary crops to flourish. Today, one alfalfa grower near White Fox is on relief and many are comparatively well off.

EXCELLENT SOIL

By 1933 settlers marketed 40,000 pounds. In 1938, 160,000 pounds were harvested. The year 1937 saw 280,000 pounds produced and this year, a record-breaker, 2,000,000 pounds of alfalfa came off previous unproductive ground. One million pounds of the 1938 crop is going to Germany and a large part of the remainder is in the United States.
The winners at the fair today, all from White Fox, were: 1, A. E. Rusk; 2, H. A. Myers; 3, G. R. McLean; and 4, David S. Owen.

The Important Fact

Hon. Dr. Cross, Alberta's minister of relief, said he had been notified by Hon. J. G. Gardiner that the Dominion will not supply relief this winter to people living in the drought areas of the province. At St. Lawrence, Mr. Gardiner said he had given no such notice, that the Dominion will supply relief if conditions in the dry areas are what they have been in recent years, and that he is waiting to hear from the Alberta authorities if and where these conditions exist.

Perhaps the provincial and federal ministers would get along better if they made signs at each other. The written or telegraphed word does seem to be an unsatisfactory medium of communication between them. Meanwhile, the important point emerging from the above exchange is the definite statement that Dominion relief will be forthcoming for drought victims if it is shown to be required. Assured that the distressed farmers and their families will be able to await with patience the reconciliation of the pronouncements at Edmonton and Ottawa.

A Cause to Help

Aiming low for a new high sounds like a paradoxical objective. Yet that is just what the Edmonton Kinsmen club members are doing—they are striving to bring about a new low death rate from tuberculosis in Edmonton and northwestern Alberta. The number of deaths from this disease has been constantly decreasing during the past 30 years and it is believed that with continuous effort tuberculosis eventually can be eradicated.

With the help of funds raised by the sale of Christmas seals, the club is working in Canada for the twelfth consecutive year—the club has been instrumental in creating machinery here to combat the insidious disease that for many years was the leading cause of death in the Dominion.

The public today knows more about the prevention and treatment of tuberculosis than it did 30 years ago. Because of this it is not too optimistic to aim for a new low death rate, which will mean a new high mark in accomplishments.

The public, as partners in the tuberculosis campaign, have a chance to work with the Kinsmen toward this goal by buying and using Christmas Seals during the holiday season.

The "Unity" Cry is a Fraud

Friend Roy Hall is convinced—believe it or not—that the Government could not have been beaten in Athabasca if the Liberal candidate had run as a Unity candidate.

This is a direct allegation that Conservative voters, U.F.A. voters and C.C.F. voters stayed away from the polls, or went to the polls and voted Social Credit, rather than vote for a Liberal candidate. In truth, what is the use of talking about unity, since they did not unify? If it is not true, and voters of all these groups did give their solid support to the one opposition candidate in the field—well, he didn't win, and couldn't have won if he had run under some other banner.

The fact is Unity was given a trial in Athabasca—and lost out. Mr. Whiteley was the only opposition candidate in the field. The other opposition groups did not nominate, presumably because he was acceptable to them. And the Liberal suggestion to the contrary—that voters for him, since he got 1,472 votes, voted 1,265 votes polled for opposition candidates three years ago. He was defeated because the Social Credit candidate polled 1,737 votes, only 27 less than three years ago. Under whatever title the Liberal candidate might have run, the entire opposition vote could not have elected him. And running as a chameleon he would likely have got fewer votes than he did.

What opponents of the Abernethy Government need is not a fusion that would degenerate into a claim for the support of members of any party, but a definite, constructive reform program that will appeal to voters as against Social Credit theories.

Monday's By-Elections

Three by-elections for the House of Commons were held on Monday. All three constituencies returned Conservatives at the general elections in 1935. At the by-elections, the Liberals won in Brant-don, while the Conservatives held London and Waterloo South. Unless the result in Brantford indicates a further swing of Manitoba opinion toward the Government, the returns from Monday's voting in the three ridings is without general significance.

In London the election of Hon. R. J. Manion, Conservative leader, was a foregone conclusion. His only opponent was a C.C.F. nominee who ran a rather bad fourth in a field of six at the general elections. At the by-election the loser secured 8,209 votes, against 3,041 three years ago, due perhaps to the absence of other opposition candidates. Dr. Manion was given 11,354 votes, against 10,911 polled for his predecessor in 1935—an increase probably due to the re-shuffling of votes in the two-man contest, and to the prestige which naturally attaches to a party leader. That the outcome was taken for granted is shown by a drop of 10,000 from the total of votes polled at the general elections.

The net result is that the Government supporters in the House count one more than at the last session, while the Conservatives have exchanged a provisional House leader for one newly chosen at the party convention.

Editorial Notes

The Anglo-Italian pact comes into effect today, and a representative of the non-intervention committee will go to Burgos to ask Franco to send the rest of the Italian forces home. Why should he?

Tourist traffic to the Waterton Lakes Park set a new high record last summer, due, it is said, to the construction of dustless, hard-surfaced approaches from United States dustless, hard-surfaced highways. Those interested in the increase of motor traffic to Jasper Park should note the fact.

The Pope will protect the new Fascist ban against Italian marrying non-Italians, on the ground this is a violation of the concordat. In the matter of disregarding treaties the dictators draw only one line of distinction. They do not break bargains they want to keep. All others are subject to unilateral cancellation.

Pulp and paper output in Canada last year reached a total of more than $226,000,000, surpassed only by the figure for 1929. This would be good news unqualified if we were creating and preserving forests in rapid and increasing numbers. Since we are not doing this, the satisfaction is modified by the fact that we are using up a present resource at the cost of an almost certain future shortage.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics has published a review of manufacturing production in the prairie provinces as a group, with detailed information respecting the industrial activities carried on in each of the three. The report gives facts and figures as to production, employment, wages, capital investment, power, fuel and electricity used. The publication sets up another mile-stone to mark the course of industrial evolution in the west, and will help to dispel the notion that the prairie country is still purely agricultural.

Current Comment

In War The Woman Pays
Mussolini's wife is said to be almost violent in her hatred for war. Her own have been militarized over her outraged protest, the youngest boy, 11, is drifting away from her, and she is a career in the army. It is as a mother, rather than the wife of a war boss, that she protests. She is speaking the language of motherhood. The tragedy of bringing sons into the world to be fed by somebody bent upon conquest and slaughter in covered lands is almost too much for flesh and blood to bear. Women have never fought much in wars, but they know more than men do—Christian Science Monitor.

Stone Walls Instead Of Bread

The Vancouver presbytery of the United Church has passed a resolution protesting against the government's plan to transport unemployed. The presbytery is of course, quite right. The sentences are of about an outrage and an anachronism. It is many a long day since, in British countries, governments have shamed of sending people to prison for debt. They still, however, incarcerate men for poverty, for poverty is the only crime of which the government is proud. The presbytery has in mind could be convicted.

Poverty, of course, would not be enough of itself to send the transport unemployed to jail. If they would only suffer their disabilities, they would be left alone. But they make their poverty apparent by begging on the streets and that circumstance makes them a nuisance by a convenient fiction, to get them convicted and hauled out of sight. The hungry men ask for bread and are given stone walls—Vancouver Province.

How Collective Security Was Buried

Hitler and Mussolini together entered the war in 1936. They did it with the specific intention of the new permanent threat, "Leave us to have our way or we'll fight." And the democracies, inventing the most sinister hypocrisy of our times, non-interventionist, let them have their way. It was during this terrible war that Chamberlain let Eden resign from the Cabinet, and served notice that the League of Nations was to be a fulcrum of British policy. In so doing he signed and sealed the burial certificate of collective security. But was the death-warrant there an element of unfairness in the bitter reproaches which have shown on him. One can berate Chamberlain for being an idealist, but he is not, for not for nothing he was in the last cause, which he declines to do. But one cannot accuse him of having murdered the League and collective security. The corpse in the morgue when he came into office. What he did was to propose to bury the corpse. He did it without funeral. He did it without tears. He did it almost happily, as though the dead body had never been alive and had meant much to civilization. But he was right; collective security was dead. And he was right; he wanted to get along in the real world which confronted him—Raymond Gray, Stung in The Congressional Quarterly (London).

Liberty In Danger

Mayor Hague's tactics in his campaign against the C.I.O. have alarmed many Americans who have previously accepted the C.I.O. as "the good thing." However, the assumption is that, once the Mayor's orders were reviewed by a competent court, Jersey City's administration would accept the ruling. That is exactly what Mayor Hague is not willing to do, and we now are to see the extraordinary extent of the head-on collision between the American city battling through the courts against a judicial order that the usual constitutional rights of American citizens shall be respected in his domain.

Judge William Clark's injunction makes no unusual or revolutionary demands upon Mayor Hague, and his policy is not revolutionary. It merely requires that citizens of Jersey City be permitted to make public addresses under circumstances and in places of their own choosing. It is to one another by word of mouth or by means of the printed page. Judge Clark insists that the public shall be recognized as Jersey City, and Mayor Hague threatens to carry to the highest court in the land against this supposedly basic condition.

The matter is before the courts and will probably remain in their jurisdiction for some time. But the fundamental difficulty remains. It is the presence of Jersey City's Mayor, who is the action of Mayor Hague in using their money to carry through the courts a fight against their fundamental constitutional rights. They will have opportunities to express their opinion of Hague's theory of government and, if they find in his favor, it will be difficult—whatever the federal courts do about it—to avoid the conclusion that the danger to democracy lies in the gullibility and indifference of citizens—Baltimore Sun.

The Royal Visit

Ottawa's interest in the visit next summer of the King and Queen is not a royal garden parties and royal courts have been conjured up by the socially-minded. Parades, ceremonies, and a thronging of crowds of local citizens are in prospect.

It might not be out of place for somebody to remind the "socially-minded" that the visit of King George and Queen Elizabeth is not a junket designed to indulge them in their passion for hobnobbing in select circles. There are other classes of citizens who are to be considered, and those who charged with the duty of organizing the royal visit will do well to keep this in mind. The royal visit is a national event, and the King's elder brother—the royal visitors will be regarded wrecks by the time they set sail for home.

As might be expected, the most excited twittering concerning next year's royal visit is based in the direction of the "socially-minded" in all, and even hot and bothered, about the prospect of impressing upon the King and Queen the loyalty and its capacity to give it a good time.

To make sure the strangers of Their Majesties are aware of Toronto's importance in the scheme, it was proposed to their board of control that Mayor Day should write immediately to Lord Tweedmouth stressing Toronto's claim to be a principal place in the royal plans, "so that a lengthy visit to the city

The Passing Show

By J. B. COWDER

The people of California voted against issuing demurrage scrip to the extent of one billion seven hundred million dollars a year in order to give every unemployed person the right to one of 30 "thirty dollars every Thursday." In China, however, a large-scale experiment in scrip is being made under the JAP ANNU IS ISSUING SCRIP Japanese armies are forcing the Chinese people to accept scrip in payment for food supplies and services. Hundreds of millions in Japanese yen are represented in these war notes—almost amount of which is a "military secret." Theoretically, the Japanese scrip is more valuable than Chinese currency at the official exchange rate of ten yen in scrip for thirteen Chinese dollars.

War notes cannot be spent in Japan, but Japanese banks in Shanghai exchange them for yen currency. They are accepted at par in the Japanese stores in payment for Japanese-made goods.

Military and naval commanders have issued war notes before, but this is the first time a nation has forced its people to accept what it has invaded, a commercial currency that is not legal tender in the land of the nation that issues it. Monetary economies may learn valuable lessons from the scrip situation in the Yangtze Valley area.

Called into conference by a friend who thinks of stamping a number on his back and being tried to think how I would think if I was a mink thinking. Mink are the great enemies of muskrats. They kill for sheer blood lust, like France's Moors engaged in saving Christian civilization in the old days; the fox seeks the mink for his meat, because young mink, like men, just for killing, will squeeze through 1 1/2 inch mesh that a mink can't get through. To save the expense of costly fencing, the mink are charged with a couple of dry cells, would keep the rats and the mink out. Or would the mink be charged with a couple of dry cells under them? Only a mink can make answer.

Discussing animal habits with a friendly naturalist, I'm coming to believe that they are as much creatures of habit as we are. Cattle, he tells me, who have been accustomed to walk along a ridge and to their grazing range, will continue to follow the line of the ridge after the place has been leveled. A skunk returning home in the morning keeps to the old path; the fox seeks its evening forage follows through the meadow grass the line of the old trail it used to follow in the woods.

Those master foragers, the bees, seem unable to find their hive if it is moved a few yards while they are away. They cluster in confusion over the hive, and the bees fly about aimlessly, fly directly south, but angle east and west. And they following ancient land trails, will continue to follow the line of the ridge after the place has been leveled.

What is the strange sense of smell or direction that enables a salmon, with a visual range of less than a hundred feet, to find its way back along the ocean beds from the Arctic to the place of its birth—to the Skeena River, to the Fraser, to the Columbia, and all to their separate creeks and tributaries. Not one of them had gone that way before. It is an uncanny exhibiting of instinct—whatever that is—that guides the salmon.

Majoral candidates must learn to curb their temper when they are in the ring. In New York, Mayor La Guardia is being used for $100,000 by a heckler. The doughy Mayor, angered at this interruption in an election speech, threatened to slap a doughnut man.

WHEN TEMPTERS of the Mayor's supporters are in the ring, they are in the ring. They are in the ring. They are in the ring.

It turns out that the chap who was hunched over the desk, and a five-dollar bill, was a lawyer with time on his hands. "A soft answer turneth away wrath," says the Bible. Or one can do as Daniel O'Connell did, and answer a five-dollar bill with a woman on Dublin bridge. He reduced her to tears by calling her an insolent triangle. She wasn't used to being cursed in "a furin langwidge." But perhaps "insolent triangle" is actionable. Still remains the disarming power of politeness.

THE MISSIONARY'S TYPEWRITER

I had taken my typewriter to a mechanic in Shanghai for a small repair. He was a friendly Englishman, and he showed me a typewriter—or what had once been a typewriter—under the name of a typewriter. The interior, who had tried to repair his own machine. The thing was an irretrievable mess of mud and disarranged parts, beyond the skill of any mechanic to repair.

There is something pathetic in all this unseemly chatter about a serious event in Canadian history, and about a religious mission, and a considerable portion of Their Majesties' three weeks stay in Canada is schoolboyish and dispiriting—Ottawa Citizen.

Effective Voting

Editor, Bulletin: The Bulletin of Friday, Nov. 11, carried an interesting story about a man in Carroll, Iowa, who had 1210 ballot boxes for the office of sheriff. He had been dead for two years.

And a couple of months ago The Bulletin ran a story about one "Boston Curtis" who was for a time in the Municipal Ward. After "Boston Curtis" was elected the successful candidate was a "public" and another example of "effective voting."

Why all the fuss because only about two-fifths of Edmonton's eligible voters went to the polls in the municipal election? All means is voting one racket out and another in. Natural! The politicians will vote compulsory voting as a racket. It's a good sign. Perhaps when enough people get fed up with making a racket, they will wake up and try to do something for themselves—not to somebody else.

Against Unification

Editor, Bulletin: The agitation for the joining of the Canadian National Railways to the Canadian Pacific and Canadian Government Railways is a racket No. 1. Some 60 per cent of Canadian Pacific stock holders do not hold domicile in the Dominion. The governments among the so-called "lower orders of life."

There are two tombstones over Lett's grave in LaSalle county, Wisconsin. One is a headstone, the other is a headstone. The records of the Canadian National Railways in the case of Benjamin Lett are like a Christian bell without a clapper. Lett was a Canadian who saved his life for Canada just as much as if he had been all white. Mackenzie's gunners shattered his home while he was defending the frontier.

A rustic who saw a lady artist sketching a landscape, "what a lovely picture," he said, "I have given prominence to the sky. You see, I have a great interest in the work."

"No," replied the man—"not since you've got up drinking."

MAYOR STATES CITY IS PROUD OF NEW STORE

Welcome Kresge Company Into Rank of Edmonton Businesses

The opening of new businesses in Edmonton indicates a flourishing condition in the city, which gives me and all citizens a feeling of pride and pleasure. For this reason I heartily welcome the advent of the S. S. Kresge Company Limited into the ranks of our retail enterprises," said Mayor J. W. Eby, greeting the opening of the new Kresge store.

"Though Edmonton for years has held the unchallenged title of 'Gateway to the North,' this phrase has gained new significance with the opening up and development of the new northern mining fields. The city in recent years has come to the front as holding the greatest amount of any in the Dominion," the mayor continued.

It is a natural part of Edmonton's future that an export-representing firm like the Kresge company is willing to invest half a million dollars in a business venture here.

Officials Disallow Two Red Wing Goals

Referee Campbell Rules that Detroit Players Were In Rangers' Goal Crease When Goal Scored

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Detroit's faltering Red Wings staggered through their fourth straight defeat last night as New York Rangers shut them out 2-0 to keep the Manhattanites' National Hockey League record unblemished in two starts.

The Red Wing players, most of them threatened with banishment to the minors if they lost their fourth straight game, made it a close contest.

Twice in the third period the red light behind the New York net flashed, but each time officials ruled a Red Wing player was inside the crease and called the goals null.

NEIL SCORES
Goal Dillan made the first Ranger goal on passes from Clint Smith and Lynn Patrick, in the second minute. Less than three minutes later, Clint Colborne broke through the Detroit defense alone to beat Neil Smith from close quarters.

Eddie Barker Gets Shot At Powerful King Kong

WEIGHING approximately 15 pounds heavier than his opponent, Eddie Barker, an Edmonton boy who recently returned from England and Europe after a year's campaigning over there, taken on a major assignment when he meets King Kong Clayton at the Monumental Hall Friday night. It will be the first main event bout on a double main wrestling card which starts at 9:00 p.m.

Barker cut a wide swath in European sports not only on the mat but on the motorcycle speedway where he made a distinct hit with the fans. In his wrestling campaign, Barker had some 300 bouts. He wrestled both English and Scottish champions and was started against the pack of American wrestlers.

He has gained considerable weight, and will weigh in at about 180 pounds, some 12 pounds heavier than the ebony powerhouse who decisively trimmed the nonchalant Danny Davis.

In the secondary main bout George Loring, the Hungarian speedster who was great exclaimer, will be matched against Spenser Thomas. This will be a close job, one in which every wrestling hold in the book will be shown.

An old campaigner here, Jack Klu, the Eskimo, will be in the preliminary bout, matched against Tazian Polvin. This will be a one-fall affair and will start the bouts at 9:00 p.m.

Matoes have to be damaged in the Panama Canal zone. A special brand from Sweden is used there.

Bowen performed the opening ceremonies. It was all but complete at 8 p.m. and W. N. Chant, Independent, Calgary, was speaking. He was unopposed and the house came back for a few minutes at 8 p.m. to enable him to finish.

With the disposition of this debate, the house will now be able to get into the legislative program.

Mr. Gray approved of all the expressions of appreciation for the late Charles C. Ross, S.C. Attorney General, as all Liberal members regretted his death.

Dealing with the proposed visit of His Majesty King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, Mr. Gray said that it was an event of the utmost significance and must give to the British nation of the world and we must give to the world as the other Anglo-Saxon nations.

In view of the fact that this is a special session, said Mr. Gray, he and his members would prefer to leave the discussion on general politics to the next regular session and to discuss the legislative program for this session as the various bills were brought before the house.

Mr. Duggan joined with other members in expressing regret at the death of Mr. Ross.

MENTIONS ROYAL VISIT

He hoped the government was aware of the significance of the coming Royal visit and hoped the province would hold a royal fête on the occasion in keeping with the occasion.

WILSON CLAIMS PHILCO'S SALES SHOW INCREASE

Philco Radio Company's policy of building receiving sets to "fit every income" has been welcomed by the general public with the result that sales this year is showing a handsome increase over last year, according to R. B. Wilson, Toronto, eastern manager for the company who was in Edmonton Wednesday in the course of a tour of western Canada.

"We believe there should be a radio in every home so that everyone can enjoy the fine programs that are now being broadcast regularly," explained Mr. Wilson, besides manufacturing luxury sets such as "mystery" sets, a special unit, we are turning out a large number of various types of receivers. We are particularly proud of our lowest priced set—a five-tube super-heterodyne in a handsome plastic case.

"This set, we are convinced, offers the most radio for the money of any machine offered in this country, and provides real radio reception at a price within the reach of every one," he said.

Home Cash Burn: Hard-Working Homesteader In Hard Luck

Family Bereft of Clothes

With his home entirely destroyed by fire, which not only consumed the furniture and clothing of the entire family but also burned up little cash he had saved during the summer, David Watson, farmer of the Long Lake settlement north of Beaver, Alberta, is working against time to build a new log house before winter sets in.

Kindly neighbors are helping him get out from the new building. Working early and late, the homesteaders of the district are performing the neighborly act. Hoping the family is living on potatoes and other vegetables which were fortunately in a root house a few feet away from the burned dwelling.

The neighbors, all homesteaders, can do nothing further to assist the family and Louis H. Parrie, justice of the peace of Beaver has asked The Bulletin to bring the plight of the Watsons to the attention of its readers.

In addition to the father and the mother, there is one girl, 13, and one boy of 12, one boy 9 and one 3 years of age.

It is a fight against winter and with their homesteading neighbors largely without winter clothing, the Watsons are requested to get behind them and get the family back on its feet again.

Any donations will be acknowledged by The Bulletin and will be collected and forwarded by Mr. Parrie who has undertaken to get them through to the Watson family. "We'll be the first!"

HELPED OIL DEVELOPMENT
Fred Anderson, S.C. Calgary, pointed out that the tremendous development in the oil and gas industry was due to Mr. Ross and that the development today was only one thing in comparison to what was to be.

Charles Cockroft, S.C. Stettler, said that he had a keen appreciation of the development of the natural resources of the province. In his duties as a member of the legislature and as a minister of the crown he fulfilled the highest traditions of British statesmanship. He was generally of his own hands to help others and he had a keen sense of duty to his constituents.

Mr. Ingersoll paid his tribute and said that he and Mr. Ross were both deeply interested in the
